Waiter Call – Radio paging system

This compact, highly practical system offers multiple radio paging solutions and is ideal for hotels, leisure centres, pubs and clubs, retail outlets, supermarkets, industrial sites, offices, nursing and care applications.

The system is very simple to install and operate and comprises of a desktop transmitter with tone and vibrating radio pagers. Vibrate only may be supplied as an option.

The push button transmitter may be located on the table top for your guests to 'page' for waiter service. Once activated the waiters pager will chirp and vibrate (or vibrate only) with the table top transmitter number showing on the pager screen.

The rated operating range is 50m with signal repeater/boosters available for larger venues increasing the range by a further 50m. Up to five repeater/boosters can be employed on one system.

EQUIPMENT CONFIGURATION

Single system for use in a building. (for use by customers)

Typical use in a restaurant to page for waiter service. The waiter's pager will show which table has called for service. The system allows the customer to receive discreet waiter service as and when required.

Multiple systems in a building. ( for other 'service' applications)

The transmitter maybe located at a suitable point to summons the pager user. This may be at a reception desk or at a bedside. The system may be used at the end of production lines to advise goods are ready for collection.

Pagers are rechargeable and are supplied with a charger. Transmitters operate from 12 Volt DC power adaptor (supplied). Transmitters and pagers are available separately.
